

Drop Everything & Read day

Friday, August 24th

We are combining our school celebrations for Book Week and The National Year of Reading on Friday, August 24th.

We will be celebrating the Book Week theme of “Champions Read” as well as the Reading Hour (which is officially on Saturday, August 25th)

Come dressed in your pyjamas OR as a Reading Champion OR as a Reading Super Hero AND bring a FAVOURITE book to read/share

HERE ARE SOME IDEAS...

Pyjamas

Wear pyjamas

Wear slippers (bring runners for playground)

Wear a dressing gown (optional)

Bring a small cuddly toy (optional)

Reading Champion

Wear a track suit

Make a “Reading Champion” medal to wear

Bring a trophy modified for reading by adding a book (optional)

Reading Super Hero

Wear a cape, mask etc and decorate with favourite books, characters etc

OR just wear your school uniform!

TheReadingHour

The Reading Hour: 10 mins a day, an hour a week

Are you joining in?

The Reading Hour is nominally from 6pm to 7pm on 25 August. (You can also do it at another time!)

We would love you to send a photo of you or your family reading to add to our LRC Blog. You can email it to smotlrc@gmail.com

<http://www.thereadinghour.org.au/>

Champions Read Challenge

Check the LRC Blog for more details about our Book Week Challenge for students to unleash their creativity...